SAW HIM PIFTY BETTER.

Near a late New Jersey camp-meeting, two clergymen, a Baptist and a Methodist, were walking, when they saw a little girl sitting on a stone, who was weeping bitterly. "What is the matter, my little girl?" asked the Baptist, kindly. "My—my father was kaptist, kindly. "My—my father was kaptist. we haven't nothing to eat and don't know what to do," sobbed the little girl, crying as if her heart would break. 'A need be, he could turn his attention to need be, he could turn his attention to truly lamentable case; I do indeed pity you." said the Baptist, frigidly, as if he were pitying some ice cream he could not eat. "How much do you pity her, Brother C.? I pity her five dollars," yelled the Methodist, as he threw a V into the girl's lap.

"I double your pile, Brother P.," the Baprist brother said, as he slowly placed an X over the V. "I go you one better."

"I'll top the spoils with a fifty," others, glaring savagely at his companion. "Here's a hundred dollar note, little girl," said the Baptist, quite blaudly,
